ORE HILL PARTNERS SWITCHES IT SUPPORT TO ATPI

New York, March 1, 2006 – Ore Hill Partners, an award winning hedge fund with more than $1.5 billion in assets under management, has switched to ATPI for outsourced IT support. ATPI provides IT solutions tailored to the requirements of new and existing hedge funds.

“Having a sound technology foundation is important to our investors, regulators and the success of our business” said Mark Sullivan, COO of Ore Hill. “ATPI’s proactive approach to technology support has helped to mitigate disruptions to our business and keeps us ahead of the technology curve. The hedge fund marketplace is quickly evolving, and we need partners like ATPI that can anticipate and prevent problems instead of just reacting to them”.

ATPI is responsible for day-to-day support of all of Ore Hill’s systems including servers, remote access, routers, firewalls and PCs. “ATPI has built a reputation for providing experienced, responsive IT support to hedge funds” said Paul DiBlasi, President of ATPI. “It’s very satisfying to know that we are making a contribution to the success of a fund as well respected as Ore Hill”.
